

Doug Dvorak to Defend World Title at Senior Games

Chicago, IL October 19, 2023: Doug Dvorak is competing in the Huntsman World Senior Games this week as he strives to defend the title he won last year.

The pickleball events are taking place this week at the Little Valley Pickleball Complex in St. George, Utah.

Last year, Dvorak won golf in the men's doubles event in the 60-64 age bracket. This year, he is playing in all four events: Men's Doubles, Men's Skill Level Doubles, Mixed Doubles, and Men's Singles.

Following his recent success in the 2023 Idaho Senior Games – where he won a gold in men's singles, a silver in mixed doubles, and another gold in men's doubles – Dvorak was feeling confident heading into this year's world championships.

The Huntsman World Senior Games is the world's largest senior multi-sport competition. Designed after the Olympics it includes more than 30 events in the span of two weeks.

The competition was founded in 1987 as the World Senior games for people over 55. The point was to promote a healthier, and even athletic, lifestyle for people who were middle-aged and older. It was later renamed the Huntsman World Senior Games after being bought by the Huntsman Corporation. Over 11,000 senior athletes are competing in this year's games.
